Central locking

On the above-mentioned vehicles an unintentional operation can lead to the opening of one or all electric windows when the vehicle is parked. This can be caused by inadvertently activating the function "comfort-opening" on the remote control or pressing the window control switch when opening the door. To remedy this, the central lock system can be reprogrammed (authorized dealer) with the "USA door logic" (window control receives no power when the door opened). The function comfort- open/closing with the key-fob remains active. As of May 2000 the coding "USA door logic" is programmed from the factory. The customer needs to be reassured, that the above-mentioned occurrence isn't a technical defect.
