

Opel Astra-G Buildyear 2000-2002 Corsa-C Buildyear 2001-2001 With diesel engine (Y17DT | Y17DTL)

Illumination of the check engine light, engine difficult to start.

If, on this vehicle the check engine light illuminates and the engine is difficult to start, a possible cause could be the failure of the glow plugs.

For the fault diagnosis, the fault code memory should be read out using a suitable tester. If the fault code P0380 (Glow plugs – circuit A malfunction) is stored in the ECU the engine number must be checked. If the engine number is less than 346918 all the glow plugs must be renewed to rectify the problem.

After the repair, the fault code memory must be cleared and the glow plugs checked for function.
